Card Game

The card game your child colors first… then plays with the whole family.

42 cards to color

7 great painters

2 games

2 to 5 players · ages 4 and up

How to Play

Collect all 6 masterpieces of a painter to complete a family.

2-5 players | 4+ years | 15 minutes

1 Deal the cards

Shuffle the 42 cards. Each player gets 6 cards. The rest go face down in the middle: that's the pond.

2 Ask for a card

The youngest player starts. Choose a player and ask for a card from a family you already have in your hand: "Grandma, from the Van Gogh family, I'd like... The Starry Night!" The 6 paintings of the family are shown at the bottom of every card, so little ones can just point.

3 Get it... or go fish!

If the player has the card, they hand it over and you ask again. If not, they say "Go fish!" and you take a card from the pond. If it's the one you asked for, show it and play again. If not, it's the next player's turn.

4 Complete a family

When you have all 6 paintings of one painter, put the family down in front of you, face up, for everyone to see.

5 Win

When the pond is empty and all 7 families are down, the player with the most families wins.

Play today, color little by little: the cards work even before they are colored, because the real painting is shown at the bottom of each one. Color a card a day, and every finished card joins your child's own deck.

Memory Game

Same cards, a second game: for the youngest players, or for two.

1-4 players | 3+ years | 10 minutes

1. Pick the families
   Take 3 or 4 families (18 to 24 cards). With all 7 families the game is longer and harder: great from age 7.

2. Hide them
   Shuffle and lay all the cards face down in neat rows.

3. Turn over two cards
   On your turn, flip 2 cards. If they belong to the same painter (same color, same portrait), keep them and play again. If not, turn them back over in the same place.

4. Win
   When no cards are left, the player with the most pairs wins. Bonus point if you can say the painting's name!

Print, color, cut

1. Paper
   Print pages 4 to 14 on thick paper (160-200 g / 60-80 lb cardstock) if you have it. Regular paper glued onto thin cardboard (a cereal box works great) is fine too.

2. Card backs (optional)
   So nobody can peek, print page 15 on the back of each card page (double-sided, flip on long edge).

3. Color and cut
   Color each drawing with the numbers: the 7 colors are at the bottom of the card, and the small picture in red shows the real painting. Then cut along the dotted line.

> 2 bonus cards: the last card page has 2 blank cards. Your child can draw a masterpiece of their own and give it a name. They don't count in the game: they're just for fun.
